THREADING ITS WAY — Employees of Toners Paving Co. Inc. of Geneva are installing distribution lines for natural gas service on Scott Street in Wayland. The project is being done for the New York State Electric and Gas Corp. which is to supply fuel to the community from its existing gas line in Dansville. The work was started in September. The line is expected to serve about 1,200 customers in the Wayland area when completed.

County to Mark Salute to 4-H

In Steuben County about 675 members are planning special activities and events in observance of National 4-H Week, Oct. 4-10, according to Shelley Stebbins, program leader.

Activities will include area achievement nights, to be held in three locations where 4-Hers receive recognition for their outstanding efforts during the past year; a window display contest in which all 4-H clubs are encouraged to participate, held to promote 4-H in each community.

The Steuben County 4-Hers are among more than 4.3 million young people across the country who will participate in the week-long celebration following the theme "4-H For Youth, For America."

In celebrating National 4-H

week, we recognize it is a people-development program, said Miss Stebbins. "4-H helps young people develop skills that will be useful in the real world. It helps them discover their strengths and weaknesses. It exposes them to activities in a variety of career fields. And, most importantly, 4-Hers learn and have fun doing it. Also families can add to the fun by learning and growing together."

Through a network of volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, state and local governments and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H has been able to stimulate youth to develop life skills, the coordinator said.

In Steuben County about 250 adult volunteer leaders work with boys and girls eight to 19 years old in 54 clubs.

Wayland Youth Held in Shooting

Damian A. Mix, 14, of 122 Lincoln St., Wayland, was returned Monday to the Monroe County Juvenile Detention Center following a hearing in Steuben County Court in Bath.

Mix is being held without bail in connection with the shooting last Thursday of Charles Rosell, 16, of 119 S. Main St., Wayland. He is being charged by State Police with second-degree attempted murder and is expected to be treated as an adult due to the seriousness of the case.

Both boys are students at Wayland Central School. Rosell is a sophomore and Mix, a freshman.

Police reported, Rosell was shot twice at about 7:30 a.m. suffering wounds of the hip, forearm and thumb. He was treated at Noyes Memorial Hospital in Dansville and later removed to Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester.

Troopers said the youth was wounded first as he stood in the parking lot of Brooks Drugs at the corner of S. Main and Washington Sts. Running from his assailant, Rosell was struck the second time as he emerged from behind a Main St. house opposite the parking lot.

Mix was arrested a short distance from the scene by Trooper Richard C. Rice of the Wayland station reportedly carrying a combination rifle and shotgun. Police said he offered no resistance.

The youth was arraigned Thursday in Steuben County Court in Bath where he was ordered held without bail pending further court action.

Police reported the shooting occurred as the result of a standing disagreement between the two boys.

Wayland Club Sets Programs

The Lowell Club program committee has announced a varied selection of topics for the 1987-88 year beginning with Roy Grisewood demonstrating basketry at the home of Geraldine Coleman Oct. 6.

Polly Shriner will be the hostess in November and Olivia Magin will talk about doll collecting. The December meeting will be held at St. Paul's United Church of Christ and will be a musical evening with Beverly Speers.

Sara Didas will do a book report on "Presumed Innocent" at the home of Joanne Price in January and Ruth Capron will present "A Trip to Africa" at the Wayland library in February.

"Gardening Myths" will be Harriet Hamilton's talk at the residence of Jennette VanPatton in March and a speaker from the Genesee Valley Council on the Arts will present a program on folk art in April at Marilyn Robinson's.

Isabelle Jablonski will plan the banquet committee in May and Robert Lewis will present a musical program.

DONNA WALKER

Wayland Miss Gets State 4-H Honor

Donna Walker of Wayland, has been named to the New York State 4-H hippology team.

Hippology is the study of horse science and management. Miss Walker placed third in the state 4-H contest and will now participate in national competition in conjunction with the Eastern National 4-H Horse Roundup at Louisville, Ky.

She is the daughter of Don and Wendy Walker of Wayland and is a member of the Loon Lake Raiders 4-H Club, led by Vicki Bolton of Cohocton and Gay Frame of Wayland. She has completed extensive 4-H horse projects and has been a county project winner. Miss Walker previously won the Steuben County 4-H hippology contest and had also qualified for state competition through the New York Region III Contest.

She is a junior at Wayland Central School.

Welcome to Golden Agers. Their monthly first Friday Mass and dinner will be held tomorrow in the Perkinsville Community Center. Bring table service.

I got a couple of responses to my question, where to send used greeting cards. I was told they can use them over to the Campus in Mt. Morris. Just sent them over with one of the employees.

Some things are definitely worth repeating in the hopes that whoever missed it the first time will read it, and admit it, we all need to refresh our memory.

This is the story of four people, Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done & Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

Anybody could have done it but Nobody did it.

Somebody got angry because it was Everybody's job.

Everybody thought that Somebody would do it.

But Nobody asked Anybody.

It ended up that the job wasn't done and Everybody blamed Everybody, when actually Nobody asked Anybody.

Mrs. Anne Collins of Maine is spending the week with Jack and Lil Malter.

Area Church Sets Holiday Events

The United Methodist Church of Springwater will hold its annual turkey dinner and Christmas Street Bazaar Saturday at the church.

The bazaar will be from 2 to 7 p.m. with a complete turkey dinner served from 4 to 6 p.m. with Alma Jensen heading the committee.

Featured in the bazaar will be Bertha Dyer's Kris Kringle Korner with handmade toys for the young; the Pillow Patch with Esma Straight.

Karen Metz and Virginia Martin are in charge of the Sweete Shoppe, highlighting homemade candies and an array of other sweets; the Christmas Tree with Donna Hornby; Marion Walker and Olive Dyer are serving in the Country Kitchen with fruits, vegetables, home canned goods.

Eileen Kline and Alice Wolfanger are in charge of the baked goods — breads, pies, cookies; and Madge McIntyre will be handling the Parcel Post Booth with surprise packages from near and far for $1. Two door prizes will be awarded.

Ten percent of the proceeds will be used for missions with the balance providing funds to pay the church's heat bills.
